Bunge Announces Appointment of Three Directors to Board, with a Fourth New Director to be Appointed Before End of Year

Will Form Strategic Review Committee of the Board Focused on Enhancing Shareholder Value

WHITE PLAINS, NY – October, 31, 2018 – Bunge Limited (NYSE: BG) announced today that its Board of Directors has appointed the following three new board members: Paul J. Fribourg, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Continental Grain Company (“Continental Grain”); Gregory Heckman, founding partner of Flatwater Partners; and Henry W. (“Jay”) Winship, President of Pacific Point Capital, LLC. The appointments are effective today. With the addition of the three new directors, the Board has expanded to 14 directors. Bunge, the D. E. Shaw group (“D. E. Shaw”) and Continental Grain reached an agreement to appoint the three directors as well as a fourth, mutually agreeable independent director to be appointed by year end.

“We welcome these new directors to the Bunge Board and will benefit from their valuable expertise and perspective as we continue to transform Bunge, execute on our strategic priorities and seek ways to enhance shareholder value. We are committed to engaging with all shareholders as we continue to pursue value-enhancing opportunities for Bunge,” said Soren Schroder, CEO of Bunge.

In addition, Bunge formed a Strategic Review Committee of the Board, which will be chaired by Paul Fribourg and will include new directors Greg Heckman and Jay Winship as well as three current directors, Andrew Ferrier, Kathleen Hyle and Mark Zenuk. The Committee will conduct a comprehensive, strategic review focused on enhancing long-term shareholder value. The Committee will make recommendations to the CEO and the Board. Bunge expects to provide future updates as appropriate.

“We are highly appreciative of the collaborative approach taken by Bunge,” said Quentin Koffey, portfolio manager at D. E. Shaw. “Bunge is extremely well-positioned within the broader agribusiness and food sector. We believe that the fresh perspectives and exceptional backgrounds of these new directors – as well as the strategic review to be conducted by the newly formed committee – will help ensure the company can maximize its potential and create significant shareholder value moving forward.”

“While the industry has faced some challenges over the last few years, we believe that Bunge, with its unparalleled asset base, has all the elements to further strengthen its position as a world class leader in the global agribusiness industry,” said Paul Fribourg, Chairman and CEO of Continental Grain Company. “I look forward to working with Bunge’s Board and management team.”

Greg Heckman will join the Corporate Governance and Nominations Committee, Paul Fribourg will join the Finance and Risk Policy Committee and Jay Winship will join the Compensation Committee. The Board has determined that Mr. Heckman and Mr. Winship are independent directors for purposes of the NYSE corporate governance listing rules, as well as Bunge’s standards of director independence.

In addition to these new appointments, the company added Mark Zenuk and Vinita Bali to the board over the past ten months. Mr. Zenuk has served as Managing Partner of Tillridge Global Agribusiness Partners, an agribusiness private equity firm, since 2016. Ms. Bali brings extensive global food industry experience, having served as Chief Executive Officer of Britannia Industries, a publicly listed food company in India.
